

Lavish Lifestyles Newsletter

Dogs In Danger Charity Event

Lavish Lifestyles attended Reality Cares "Dogs In Danger" celebrity charity event hosted by Shana Wall of the "Amazing Race" at Michael Scott's beautiful Beverly Park Estate on Saturday June 14th. Other celebrities in attendance included Ryan Seacrest, Lisa Rinna, actor Jai Rodriguez of Animal Planet's "Groomer Has It", Linda Blair, Kelly Rutherford, Lisa Foxx and many others. This event's mission was to raise awareness of the many dogs being killed in shelters everyday and helping to save their lives through pet adoption.

What a great way to spend a Saturday afternoon: sampling delicious hors d'oeuvres, sipping speciality cocktails, participating in a silent auction; while watching these adorable rescue dogs strut their stuff on the catwalk all for a great cause!

Guests didn't leave this fabulous soiree empty handed, as each guest received a giftbag containing everything from organic pet food and treats to products from Revlon, to my personal favorite Skinny Water (I may be slightly biased because Skinny Water is one of our client's, but this flavored water is delicious....zero calories, zero sugar, zero guilt).

Lastly, please consider animals in the shelter before you buy a dog or cat from a pet store. Shelter animals need your help more than animals costing $500+. Save a life...ADOPT!

